Our Story

Do you remember when you were a teen, and you'd sit on the floor at the bookstore in front of the magazine rack. You'd sip your hot cocoa and soak up the glossy magazine pages filled with images and articles that inspired you and propelled you to see life in new ways?

My love for magazines has remained true, and as a businessman, I've always stocked my waiting rooms and employee break rooms with a selection of magazines for all to enjoy.

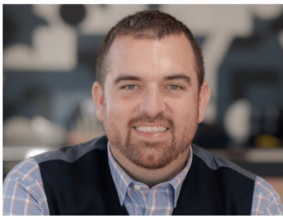

"My love for magazines has remained true..."

When I learned that some major book retailers and businesses were eliminating their print magazine racks, my wife, Lauren, and I began wondering, Why couldn't waiting room guests just scan a code and read a digital magazine from their smart devices?

That seed of curiosity has bloomed into Magazine Jukebox.

While musical jukeboxes swept the nation in the 20th century, appearing in all the ultra-hip venues, Magazine Jukebox is following suit in the 21st century. We are answering the demand for digital infotainment wherever people gather. We hope you grab a virtual magazine, and get inspired again!
